

Implied physical scale disagrees by ~7× across species

The obvious fix does not fix it

Absolute scale is not identifiable from the current corpus. → absolute allometry is excluded, not attempted.

247 of 279 metadata-matched specimens share one voxel size, so voxel size cannot produce a 7× spread; the preprocessing script applies no rescaling.